

Homework Practice - Parent/Student Reading Vocabulary

Grade 1 – Level 5 – short i

Dear Parent: Achieving satisfactory reading vocabulary (called word recognition) and being able to read words quickly and easily (called fluency) are the two main skills that research finds are essential for enabling your child to make maximum progress in reading. The list below shows the special reading vocabulary words your child is working hard in learning this week at school. These words have been identified as being of utmost importance for Grade 1 students. In order to maintain satisfactory reading progress, it is very important your child master the words below. Although we practice these words daily at school, parents can contribute greatly to the memorization/learning process by helping for a few minutes daily. Please practice the STEPS below 3-5 minutes each day. Thank you
